1. What is the purpose of key events in React applications?

2. How are key events bound to specific elements in React?

3. What are some examples of key events in React?

4. How does event pooling improve event handling efficiency in React?

5. Why is reducing memory consumption important in event handling?

6. What are the benefits of using React.js event handlers for handling user interactions?

7. Can you name some commonly used event handler attributes in React?

8. How are event handlers assigned to elements in React components?

9. What is the advantage of using synthetic events in React?

10. How do synthetic events ensure browser consistency in React applications?